SIGHTSEEING

• Munneshwaram temple

An ancient temple dedicated to Lord Shiva, believed to predate the Ramayana. Lord Rama visited this site after his battle with Ravana to seek relief from the Brahmahasti Dosham (the karmic effects of killing a Brahmin). The name Munneswaram means "first temple of Shiva" (Munnu + Easwaran). A Shiva Lingam here is said to have existed before Rama's arrival.

• Manavery temple

It is the first lingam installed and worshipped by Lord Rama, and the only Shiva Lingam apart from Rameshwaram known as Ramalinga Shivan. This was done upon the advice of Lord Shiva to relieve Rama from the dosham.

• Tirukoneshwaram temple

perched on Swami Rock overlooking the Indian Ocean. Believed to have been built before 400 BCE, this temple is one of the key Shakthi Peethams and holds the statue of Shankari Devi.

• Ravana Hot Wells

The Ravana Hot Wells, located in Kanniyai (Trincomalee), Sri Lanka, are a cluster of seven natural hot water springs believed to have originated during the Ramayana era. According to local legends, King Ravana struck the ground with his sword to release water in order to perform the final rites for his mother. The resulting springs are now revered as sacred and are frequented by both devotees and tourists.

Each well has a distinct temperature, and pilgrims traditionally pour water from all seven over themselves as a spiritual cleansing ritual. These wells are located close to Thirukoneswaram Temple, making them a significant stop along the Ramayana Trail in eastern Sri Lanka.

• Kandy.-Temple of the tooth relic

The Temple of the Tooth Relic, locally known as Sri Dalada Maligawa, is one of the most revered Buddhist temples in Sri Lanka, located in the heart of Kandy — a UNESCO World Heritage City.

This sacred temple houses the tooth relic of Lord Buddha, which is believed to have been brought to Sri Lanka in the 4th century A.D. The relic is enshrined in a golden casket inside a beautifully adorned shrine within the temple complex. It plays a central role in Sri Lankan Buddhism and is also a symbol of sovereignty — historically, whoever held the relic had the right to rule the country.

The temple architecture is a blend of Kandyan and traditional Sinhalese styles, with intricate wood carvings, golden roofs, and tranquil surroundings by Kandy Lake. Daily rituals and pujas are conducted by monks, and during the Esala Perahera Festival (July/August), the relic is paraded through the city in grand cultural processions.

A visit to this temple offers both spiritual insight and cultural depth, making it a must-see on any Sri Lanka itinerary.

• Ramboda hanuman temple

Located 30 km north of Nuwara Eliya along the Kandy–Nuwara Eliya road, this temple occupies a serene hilltop in picturesque Ramboda. Built in 1999 by the Chinmaya Mission of Sri Lanka, it is an important stop on the mythological Ramayana Trail
